REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

For the Year Ending July 15, 1931

In previous annual reports I have attempted to outline the philosophy of education which has guided us in the reorganization of the Plainville schools. I have also explained, step by step, the progress made in setting up and administering a modern school system. In this, my fourth annual report, I shall endeavor to indicate a few of our most conspicuous achievements and our plans for further improving the work in the class room.

THE HIGH SCHOOL

Measured by any standard you may select, the High School is a success. It is catering to the needs of all the children, is offering an enriched curriculum and its holding power is above that of the average high school in the state. Its graduates have successfully continued their education in schools of higher learning. A member of this year's class was admitted to Harvard University without examinations simply on the basis of work done in the high school. The school is on the accredited list of about all of the colleges which grant certification privileges for entrance. The school has already gained recognition from colleges and schools of higher learning which places it on a basis of equality with the older high schools throughout the state.

Better than any other achievement, the school is a center of life and interest, not only of the boys and girls, but also of the entire community. Physical education, music, art, and dramatics have come to have an established place in the community with accompanying enrichment of ideals and better social attitudes. It is a safe conclusion that Plainville High School has come to be an indispensable institution.

On the opening of school in September, the High School physical plant will be taxed to capacity. Rooms which were built to accommodate a maximum capacity of thirty pupils will, in many instances, have to be made to accommodate forty. The auditorium will have to be used as a study hall, for which purpose it is totally inadequate. One year later Plainville will again face the problem of inadequate education facilities, for the Linden Street School will also be completely filled at that time.

THE ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS

This marks the end of the second year of the Platoon School in Plainville. It must be admitted that we have not yet accomplished all of our aims which we had in mind in setting up this newer organization. We have, however, enriched the work of the intermediate grades, have relieved school work of monotony, and have created centers of child-interest to such a degree that ninety per cent. of the Plainville children would be willing to attend school throughout the year.

Our principal difficulty in this work is in securing adequately trained teachers in the special subjects. No Normal School in Connecticut has yet attempted any of this kind of teacher preparation and the Platoon School is still relatively rare in the East.

The Broad Street School in particular is badly handicapped by the lack of a large room which can be used either as an auditorium or gymnasium. This is a serious deficiency in a modern school under any plan of organization. Many of the objectives of our educational program simply cannot be met without an opportunity for assemblies and coöperative working in larger groups.

THE KINDERGARTEN AND PRIMARY GROUPS

The increased attention given to the intermediate and high school grades during the past three years has left the primary grades much as they were after the introduction of the Hardy method of teaching reading. While the work in many of these rooms is of a high order, we need to focus attention again upon the beginning years of the child's life in school. The work is in need of enriching and improving. We do not have activities enough as the center of the life of the school, while subject matter is altogether too conspicuous. Neither have we attempted to "unfetter the creative impulse" of little children. We believe we are now ready for a readjustment in the primary grades and we expect to major attention upon this division of our school system during the coming year.

SCHOOL FINANCE

No one appreciates the financial burden-bearing of Plainville better than the Superintendent of Schools. Yet it is impossible to decrease the school income much further, with our growing school population, and still maintain our present educational efficiency. We are endeavoring to eliminate waste through a scientific budgeting system and an approved method of school accounting. The Board of Education has given increased attention to all financial matters and one hundred per cent. of all school monies are directly applied to the work of education.

RECOMMENDATIONS

While the present industrial conditions demand strict economy in all governmental expenditures, it is an unwise policy not to anticipate future needs especially in the field of education. It does not require the foresight of a genius to prognosticate future growth and a larger school population in Plainville. In view of educational demands which are bound to come, I make the following recommendations:

1. As soon as it is financially possible, a wing should be built on the rear of the Broad Street School to provide class rooms, to replace the portable buildings and to provide an auditorium as an essential part of the equipment of a modern school. Tentative plans for this addition are already in the office of the Superintendent of Schools.
2. The beginning of a survey and the making of preliminary plans for an addition to the High School of sufficient size to house the entire junior-senior high school should be undertaken this year. A long period of planning will mean the elimination of waste and an ultimate economy in construction. This would not call for an immediate appropriation.
3. The purchase of at least five acres of land for a future school site in the Farmington Avenue region. While the erection of this building will not come for several years, land values will never again be so low as at present. It is altogether the part of wisdom to provide for the future in this respect.

IN CONCLUSION

In this year of financial depression no one in authority has seriously proposed to curtail education service in Plainville. In general, the work of the schools has met with approval in spite of a difficult situation. The feeling that the schools must move forward is almost universal in America. For the hope of the nation rests with the children now in school. Having made so splendid a beginning in the establishing of a progressive educational system, in the spirit of mutual coöperation and helpfulness, we must continue a work so essential in a republic. Education must be maintained at any cost and our children must be given a fair chance in the race of life.

(Signed) LEON C. STAPLES,
Superintendent of Schools.

A STUDY OF SCHOOL COSTS

Graphic representation of the relationship between elementary school current expenses per pupil in average daily attendance for Plainville and for the State of Connecticut as a whole shows:

1. Plainville school costs have never even approximated the State costs.
2. The nearest the two items ever approximated each other was in 1928-1929. Plainville was then $19.69 under the State costs.
3. Our peak was reached in 1928-1929 and we have slowly receded each year since.
4. State costs have slowly increased year by year and are still rising.

PLAINVILLE HIGH SCHOOL

OBJECTIVES FOR 1931-1932

1. To develop and improve upon the program of pupil guidance now in use.
2. To perfect as far as possible a program of student participation in school government, and emphasize the importance of club activity in the high school curriculum.
3. To study abilities of pupils within grade VIII and make changes from section to section whenever such changes will be to the best advantage of the child.
4. Teacher growth:
 - a. To concentrate on the plan of having each teacher prepare in chart form the units of work as the course progresses, such units to be the basis for the course of study, and the object of improvement from year to year.
 - b. To develop as far as possible a spirit for professional growth on the part of the high school faculty, this objective to be accomplished in part by the introduction of a reading shelf of professional books and magazines, and a series of effective teachers' meetings.
5. To eliminate waste of school supplies and equipment through the installation of a system of storeroom accounting.
6. To establish a schedule of classroom visitations; not only to assist teachers wherever possible, but to know more of what is being accomplished in the high school and to improve myself in the technique of supervision.

REPORT OF PLAINVILLE TOWN PLAN COMMISSION

August 24, 1931.

During the fiscal year fifteen regular meetings, one special meeting, three public hearings and one informal hearing were held. Two new petitions were received.

Street, building and veranda lines on Tomlinson Avenue east of East Street were approved and adopted. Benefits were assessed with no damages.

The Farmington Avenue recommended reduction by petition in the present 50-foot building and veranda line was rejected after a public hearing.

A 50-foot wide street line on Ledge Road to View Street, with a 160-foot opening at the intersection of New Britain Avenue, was approved and adopted. The benefits equalled the damages.

An informal hearing was held in an endeavor to find a desired highway exit from New Britain Terrace located south of Mountain View. Expressed sentiment favored a road to the west for convenience in traveling to schools and center of Town, crossing the Quinnipiac River and continuing through Milford and East Maple Streets. The Commission is now working on this project.

The $600.00 appropriated for the use of the Town Plan Commission was exhausted in April.

The present Commission consists of:

REPORT OF THE HEALTH OFFICER

July 30, 1931

I have the honor to submit herewith the report of the Health Officer for the fiscal year ending July 30, 1931.

Owing to the fact that Plainville experienced an epidemic of Measles, Chicken Pox and Whooping Cough and that the Health Officer is now compelled to placard and isolate all communicable diseases, this department was more active than the entire five previous years.

Statistical data concerning the prevalence of communicable diseases is tabulated below in frequency of occurrence:

Measles	199
Chicken Pox	149
Whooping Cough	112
Social Diseases	34
Complaints	32
German Measles	12
Mumps	10
Tuberculosis	8
Scarlet Fever	6
Diphtheria	2

That the field of preventative medicine is broadening and extending into new spheres is apparent to all well-informed health officials and sanitarians. In the early days of public health work, the function of the Health Officer consisted chiefly in the abatement of nuisances and the establishment of quarantine. In other words, the Health Officer was merely a police officer.

The growth of the conception that a large part of the function of a Health Officer may be performed by disseminating information and relying upon the people to carry out preventive measures voluntarily makes it incumbent upon health officials to determine what information may be advantageously disseminated. It is especially incumbent upon Health Officers, therefore, to keep abreast of the times and to be informed as to the various fields in which preventive medicine may be profitably undertaken. For that reason the local Health Officer has attended most of the meetings and conventions in this vicinity, to be constantly alert for new information that may be of value in his field of endeavor.

GEORGE F. COOK, M. D., Health Officer.

REPORT OF THE PLAINVILLE PARK COMMISSION

1930-1931

The Park Commission during the year has laid out and graded driveways and flower beds in accordance with a part of its plans for the development of the park. A roadway has been cleared through the woods, and graded in readiness for stone. We have also partly filled that portion of the canal that was unsanitary, and have leveled about six hundred feet of the canal bank, to fill a swamp, thus increasing the available surface for ornamental purposes.

Your Commission is now ready to make flower beds, stock a part of the canal with water lilies and other water plants, and otherwise beautify the park. But to do this, we shall need to employ a caretaker. We will await the pleasure of the town for the necessary appropriation.

C. H. NORTON, Chairman.
